Sandgate Sunset Run

Sandgate is getting ready to glow at the unique Sunset Run next month

As the sun sets over the iconic Sandgate roundabout, teams of 2-4 runners will do as many laps of the 250-metre course as they can for 2 hours, using a giant glow stick as their relay baton.

While the Safe & Sure/Clipsal 1000 Open Relay is the main event, there is a new event this year – the Sharlow Fitness/Be Bold Coffee Social Relay. It's a less-competitive, fun and social 40 minute relay, for ages 12 and over.

Also new this year will be roving stilt walkers and a chill-out zone.

The kids events are back again, with the Kartia Designs Kids Dash for those aged 9 and under, and the Northside Family Law Junior Relay for those aged 10-15. The Kids' Stage will feature the Nexus Hip Hop Crew, Red Rocket 3 and Domino the Jester.

Organiser Dean Gibson says the third annual fun run is all about promoting health, fitness, fun and charity.

"There's really something for everyone at the Sandgate Sunset Run – whether you are a competitive runner, or more interested in the food trucks!," he says.

"With World Food Markets, jumping castle, face painting, a live DJ and plenty of glow sticks, this will be a great opportunity to bring the community together."

The run is raising money for Share the Dignity, a local charity providing sanitary items for women who are homeless or at risk of homelessness. Collection bins will be present on the night.

Vegas'Latina Castle

Outstanding Young Achiever

There is absolutely no doubt, local Vegas'Latina Castle is the most awarded person the Messenger has ever had the privilege of talking to and she's only 11 years old.

Vegas started training in Brazilian Jiu Jitsu just two years ago and in that short time has amassed 18 gold medals, seven silver medals and two bronze medals for various championships in Queensland, New South Wales and Victoria and has just become the National Australian Brazilian Jiu Jitsu Champion 2016 (Female - All Belts 11yo).

By any other measure Vegas is a normal 11 year old girl (which her family are keen to encourage) but she also has a natural talent for Brazilian Jiu Jitsu. Vegas' mum Liberty said that the family doesn't have a martial arts background and that Vegas is super dedicated to the sport. She trains 1.5 hours a day, five days a week at Infinity Martial Arts here in North Lakes

In that particularly 11 year old manor, Vegas talks with a smile and giggles when we're surprised that she has collected all those medals in just two years. We met Vegas at Lake Eden with her mum Liberty.

Vegas said her favourite achievement is the National gold but she's really excited for the Pan Pacific Championships to be held in Melbourne next month, where she's hoping for another gold. She has already qualified to compete.

"It's not about the medals its about personal growth. We just want her to have a good grounding in life. Brazilian Jiu Jitsu has taught her discipline, respect, resilience and team work which we think are great attributes to have in life. The main thing for us is having good values. Self-defence is great too" said Liberty.

We agree. Good luck at the Pan Pacs Vegas!

Found Termites?

✓ Stop ✓ Call ✓ Book ✓ Install

- 1 STOP! - do not spray the area with fly spray or any other product. Cover the area back up and leave for a professional Sandgate Pest Control technician to assess. (If you disturb this area they have the potential to flee to other areas of your home and this can make treating and identifying them hard)
- 2 CALL US as soon as possible. Our licenced technician will attend your property and give you free advice and a quotation for our services.
- 3 BOOK a Termite Inspection (and eradication treatment if required). This allows for all accessible timbers in the house to be inspected, including fences and any outbuildings. Australian Standards state that all homes should have a full Timber Test Inspection at least annually.
- 4 INSTALL a protective chemical barrier. Once the active termites have been eradicated installing a chemical perimeter barrier will help ensure that they do not enter your home in the future. Sandgate Pest Control offers a 5 - 10 year warranty on their barrier treatments.
- 5 Even though our barriers are very effective we still strongly recommend that you continue with your annual inspections. This allows us to continue your warranty, keep an eye on your home, and identify if any changes at your home may have broken or breached the barrier.

Every year, many buildings in Australia are damaged by subterranean termites, or other timber pests. It is in the home owner's best interest to protect their home from these destructive pests.

Remember once the barrier has been installed, Sandgate Pest Control highly recommends that home owners continue with a Timber and Pest Inspection at least once a year.

Continuing with annual termite inspections after the barrier has been installed allows for the technician to check that the barrier has not been bridged or breached.

Students eye the future

at local STEM challenge

High school students on Brisbane's northside have celebrated the end of an eight-week robot-building journey with a community showcase of their robots at Murrumba State Secondary College.

The showcase was the culmination of the Moreton Bay STEM Fest (Science, Technology, Engineering and Maths), which involved 240 students from across the Moreton Bay region who

They have spent the past two months designing and building their own small robots using LEGO Mindstorms EV3 robotics kits.

Eight schools took part – Aspley State High, Bray Park State High, Burpengary State Secondary College, Dakabin State High, Deception Bay State High, Murrumba State Secondary College, North Lakes State College and Pine Rivers State High.

The Year 7, 8 and 9 students were helped by QUT, the Queensland STEM Education Network and Step Up during an intriguing STEM activity that opened their eyes to new skills and future careers.

"STEM skills are increasingly critical for students' job prospects with 75 per cent of the fastest growing occupations in Australia requiring these skills," said Sharon Cordiner, the Deputy Principal of Murrumba State Secondary College.

"Moreton Bay STEM Fest is leading the way, bringing together local schools and working closely with QUT to provide world-class STEM learning and prepare our students for the jobs of the future."

QUT STEM postgraduate students visited school classroom to help students design and code robots to compete in a series of technical challenges, including navigating courses, moving items and timed races.

"Robotics encourages students to have fun with STEM concepts and gain confidence, knowledge, and skills at the same time," said QUT education student Suzette Argent who is studying a Graduate Diploma in Education - Biology and is also a Step Up Ambassador.

"Students can practise taking risks, problem-solving and innovating in a safe, team setting. It's interesting to see how many different ideas students come up with trying to solve these challenges."

Moreton Bay STEM Fest partners included QUT and its widening participation projects such as Robotics@QUT, the Queensland STEM Education Network, the Australian Government Department of Education and Step Up – a Queensland-wide project, led by QUT, that aims to transform the nature and delivery of pre-service teacher education in the science and mathematics disciplines. This year's STEM Fest showcase finale coincided with this year's National Science Week, which had the theme of Drones, Droids and Robots.

This news comes hot on the heels of teachers studying to improve their own STEM skills.

Back in June our teachers were given the opportunity to upskill in STEM professional development with the goal of being able to educate skills that are vital for Queensland students to be prepared for a range of jobs developing now and in the future.

The $3 million professional development program for Queensland's state school teachers was the first of its kind in Australia.

Moreton Bay Rail Link to Open

Finally, the news we've all been waiting for

Last week the State Government's Department of Transport and Main Roads made the announcement that the Moreton Bay Rail Link (MBRL) will open the first week of October 2016.

The new stretch, connecting Petrie to Kippa-Ring was planned to open mid-2016, but critical signalling problems that risked danger to road commuters and passengers had halted the project for further testing.

Testing and fixes are being now being finalised and consumers can ready their go-cards for Tuesday 4 October when the line will open to passengers.

As we previously reported (Messenger August 20 2016) to make these final adjustments there will be a major disruption for commuters who travel between Caboolture and Zillmere. This closure will take place starting 9pm on Friday 16 September until 2am on Friday 23 September 2016. Extra station staff, bus connections and temporary timetables will help to ease to situation during the closure. Alternate bus replacement services will be available between Zillmere and Caboolture for passengers during the closure with bus interchanges to be located at Elimbah, Caboolture and Boondall stations.

The billionish dollar (depending on who you ask) project, 100 years in the making, will deliver a 12.6 km dual-track passenger trains stopping all stations between Petrie and Kippa-Ring, including six new rail stations at Kallangur, Murrumba Downs, Mango Hill, Kinsellas Road, Rothwell and Kippa-Ring.

Passenger rail services along the MBRL will also signal the beginning of a new bus timetable, with services every six to 12 minutes in peak periods.

To celebrate the opening of the long awaited and vital infrastructure project there is a community open day event planned for Monday 3 October (Queen's Birthday public holiday).

On the day, services will run end-to-end on the new line, with community VIPs and members of the public. You'll be able to take a free ride on the trains and see the new stations. The very first train will run from Kippa-Ring to Petrie, as part of the celebrations for the people of Redcliffe Peninsula.

Registrations for the community open day will open at 9am on Monday 12 September 2016. A free train shuttle service between Kippa-Ring and Petrie will be operating from 9am until 2pm. Those eager to take the first ride on this once-in-a-generation opportunity will need a ticket.

Unfortunately, though we sought specific information from the relevant bodies about how to secure your ride on the day - none was forthcoming before we went to press.

Keep your eye on our website or instagram where we'll publish the ticketing details as soon as we have it.

My husband treats me like the village idiot

Hello Leonie,

Firstly I want to say something I think to myself every week but never put pen to paper about and that is that I love reading your column. The Messenger is a true community magazine and it saves me from buying expensive magazines that have little to do with life as we know it in North Lakes. It's my Thursday morning treat – enjoying coffee at Coffee Club and reading The Messenger.

That all being said I wonder if you would help me with a relationship problem that is getting worse as time goes by. My husband of 9 years is really a very nice man in so many ways and when we are home alone, everything is fine. But the minute we have company, he acts like a know it all and he talks over me in what I feel is a very disrespectful way, puts me down and takes little shots at me. It doesn't matter if it is with my friends or his friends or family, he treats me very dismissively - sometimes like I'm the village idiot. It's as if he thinks that I have nothing to offer anyone and have no idea about anything.

Last year we spent 6 weeks in New Zealand where we caught up with extended family and there were so many get togethers that we were out a lot and of course I was treated like a fool and made sport of. I could not wait to get home. My sister and brother in law are doing the same holiday over Christmas. I had them over for dinner last weekend to talk about the trip, what to do and what to see and so on.

This was something I arranged for my sister of my own accord and in fact my husband was meant to be working last weekend and swapped rosters to help out someone else. So I can say that this dinner was my event designed to help my sister get the most out of her holiday. I can't tell you what a humiliating night it was for me. He contradicted everything I said. From me suggesting the hotels I liked best to my idea of what to see. The second I started to talk about different activities, he spoke over me correcting everything I was saying. He would cut in and say "not really, oh no that's not right," and stuff like this. He challenged everything I said or suggested to the point where I just shut my mouth. My sister and I went out on the veranda and the husbands ended up watching TV.

My sister said that my husband's treatment of me is unacceptable and flat out asked me why I'm staying with him and I really couldn't justify his behavior. The thing is that he is only like this when we have company and I don't want to throw the baby out with the bath water.

I spoke to him about how I felt on Sunday and we had the biggest fight we have ever had. He says he's sick of my getting the shits and reacts childishly by saying that he will say nothing and stay in the media room when people come over and he won't listen to me about how he is making me feel. He also said that it's a good thing we can't have kids (a very sad situation for me) because I need to be the centre of attention and that I am the problem, not him. I'm having a really hard time bouncing back from last weekend and wonder what to do.

Name withheld/North Lakes

Hi,

Something I want you to seriously think about is that a large percent of wonderful in a relationship won't cover any percent of abuse. Every time your partner belittles you, talks you down, corrects you in public for inconsequential matters or dismisses your feelings; and you respond by sticking around for the next onslaught, you are teaching him that he can go on being an abuser and you will show up for the next time.

The way I see it is that you should first see if the situation can be turned around through formal intervention with a relationship counsellor.

No counsellor can wave a magic wand and effective counselling requires that clients fully engage in the process. There is a strong chance that a therapist who is a non stakeholder in the relationship may be able to expose the level of dysfunction in the relationship and bring about positive change for both of you.

Given that you can't live on a deserted island so your husband doesn't have an audience, if your husband won't engage in therapy and continues to assert that his behavior is okay, your options may be reduced to "put up and shut up" or to leave. It would seem that if you want things to change, you're going to have to make it happen. Given that we teach people how to treat us, if you keep putting up with this behavior, you are effectively teaching him that it is ok to treat you this way.

I feel that the healthy thing to do would be to ask for couples counselling and if he won't engage and continues to assert that you alone are the problem vote with your feet and walk away from the union.

Til next week, Leonie

Arterial Drag Strip

Its Saturday evening and the local "little darlings" are driving round in mummy & daddies car treating the new section of the arterial road like a drag strip, due to a surplus of half price doughnuts from Woolies the police can not attend.

Shall we place bets as to when the first road side memorial is fixed up? This time we may get some great photos of a car in someone lounge.

North South Arterial

@G&G, B, you are a fool if you think the road was never going to be built. It was on the development plan 9 years ago when i bought my land. If you do some research you will see real estate prices of homes, and even the original price of blocks, that back onto the road have always been valued a lot less then those in other areas.

In the same way those in Mango Hill back onto the train line, it was a long time coming but it was a certainty that I was going in. You can't complain now its in.

The road is a multi lane arterial with shoulders and a median. It speed is appropriate at 80k and is even entitled to by 90 according to its design.

Progress!!

PK

To "very unhappy" G&G B,

Are you serious with your complaint of the through road?

The one that's been on the master plan of North Lakes since day dot. The same one that was planned, years before you bought your now "devalued" house?

You and all the others whining about this road need to wake up to yourselves. That road was planned well before you thought of moving here. If you lot can't be bothered to open your eyes and look, there is no one to blame but yourself.

I bet you're the type that would buy next to a pub or under a flight path and then whinge about it.

Claymore.

Abandoned Shopping Trolleys

Seriously, how hard is it to arrange to have a shopping trolley picked up and returned to the Westfield Centre. There is a house on Copeland Drive that has had a shopping trolley in the front of their yard now for over 3 weeks, it is located beside the resident's driveway and garage so it is not as if they haven't seen it, sadly now there are palm fronds propped up beside the trolley.

Surely they could push it back or at least contact the store belonging to the trolley. The sooner Westfield puts perimeter blocks on trolleys leaving centres the better, in order to keep the estate from becoming an eyesore.

Disgruntled resident.

the free service is called Hearing Help and allows people to complete a hearing test online and access impartial hearing advice and support from hearing clinicians

Hearing support service an Australian first

BY DR ANITA GREEN, BRISBANE NORTH PHN

Around one in six Australians has some form of hearing loss and this number is expected to rise to one in four by 2050, but Australian Hearing says its new support service will be a 'game-changer'.

Launched recently to coincide with Hearing Awareness Week, the free service is called Hearing Help and allows people to complete a hearing test online and access impartial hearing advice and support from hearing clinicians.

Difficulty in accessing guidance on hearing support may contribute to people waiting eight years on average before taking action to address hearing loss, according Australian Hearing.

But even though there are general medical helplines available in Australia, Australian Hearing says this is the first that is purely dedicated to hearing.

It is designed to put people directly in touch with a fully qualified hearing specialist, either over the phone or via live web chat, incurring no out-of-pocket expenses.

Australian Hearing Chief Operating Officer Gina Mavrias said Hearing Help was about making hearing advice convenient and easily accessible.

"Whether that's browsing the website for resources, asking for help through online chat, or picking up the phone to chat directly with a hearing specialist," Ms Mavrias said.

"This way, we're not asking people to physically travel to a hearing centre," she said.

"We can help with all manner of hearing associated questions. We can help people wanting information on hearing related conditions, such as tinnitus.

"We can share knowledge on the most technological advances on hearing devices, or help someone wanting to know how to get a hearing check.

"We're also a convenient option for those living in rural or remote areas where there might be less access to a GP," she said.

But it's not just people with hearing loss who can benefit from Hearing Help. Studies show that untreated hearing loss negatively impacts a person's relationships, especially those closest to them.

"Good hearing is essential to communication, but when it starts to decline, frustration can creep in. That's one of the many reasons why we created Hearing Help; as a valuable support line for the entire family," Ms Mavrias said.

"We can help time-poor parents who appreciate instant access to information for their child. We can also help loved ones wanting to know how they can help their partner communicate again," she said.

At the launch of the new service in Victoria, Minister for Human Services Alan Tudge said Hearing Help was created to break down the barriers that face many Australians with hearing loss.

"Hearing Help is another example of how we're using technology to ensure broader access to government services and save time for busy people," Mr Tudge said.

Australian Hearing is a statutory authority constituted under the Australian Hearing Services Act 1991, reporting to the Minister for Human Services.

It is the country's largest provider of Government subsidised hearing services and its world renowned research division, the National Acoustic Laboratories, was established in 1947.

Deloitte Access Economics (formerly Access Economics) found the real financial cost of hearing loss to Australians was $11.75 billion in 2005, or 1.4 per cent of GDP.

This figure represented an average cost of $3,314 per person per annum for each of the 3.55 million people who had hearing loss (in 2005), or $578 for every Australian.

To speak to a fully qualified hearing specialist, call 1800 740 301 (Freecall) or visit www.hearinghelp.com.au.

Your Stars

Aquarius Jan 21-Feb 19: Tune out the alarmist cries of friends. They mean well, but their emotional investment in your decision is throwing you off balance.

Pisces Feb 20-March 20: Things needn't be so either or. Take the best that both sides have to offer and you'll be the one who comes out with the most in the end.

Aries March 21-April 20: You could benefit from a change of scene even if you can't get away for long; a day trip does wonders for recharging the batteries.

Taurus April 21-May 21: You should enjoy the fact that you have so many alternatives worth considering. It's a luxury worth savouring.

Gemini May 22-June 21: It's time for the truth to come out. Take credit for being the ghost writer for a current success.

Cancer June 22-July 23: Don't revisit the vacillation. You've wasted enough time trying to make a no win situation work. Just about any choice at the point would be the right one.

Leo July 24-Aug 23: Differences are ironed out this week. But wait a few days before making light of things. People aren't ready to see the humour in the situation.

Virgo Aug 24-Sept 23: A sought after sale or agreement is yours. But bear in mind that you may have snagged more than you bargained for.

Libra Sept 24-Oct 23: You play with variables in the same way that children play with vegetables. But what looks like whiling away the hours will lead to an important breakthrough.

Scorpio Oct 24-Nov 22: It's never easy when a relationship goes through changes. But you'll find that this will actually bring you closer.

Sagittarius Nov 23-Dec 21: Just because you play fair doesn't mean that others will. Get your nose out of the rule book and study the way opponents think.

Capricorn Dec 22-Jan 20: You may have taken on more than you can handle, but hang in there. Not only is this an opportunity for growth; it will prove enriching as well.

The ROAR!

A Roar from the North Lakes Lions Club Den with Chris Doyle

Hello, Spring and the smell of Jasmine is in the air and the days are getting longer, warmer and more pleasant than just a few weeks ago. Things are heating up in the Den at a similar rate and there's plenty of smiles all around.

On Saturday the 20th of August the club staged our annual Lions Children of Courage awards ceremony at The Lakes College. The Awards were first introduced into our District 201Q3 in 2002 and is now established as an important and extremely worthwhile project for our club. There are many awards that recognize the achievements of young people, although children with "special needs" are not catered for. The Children of Courage Awards fills this void and recognizes a very special group of young Australians and their families. The Lions Children of Courage Awards has grown to become one of our Club's most important events in our Lions calendar year.

All children just want to be accepted by others, regardless of any special needs they may have. The awards for these children, highlight how they successfully overcome additional barriers, which face them. It recognizes the courage and bravery shown, thus portraying them as a winner in his or her own right. This recognition will also: act as an encouragement for their future, help them to believe in themselves, help increase their self-esteem and indeed their overall self-worth. The families also benefit from these awards, sharing in the pride and the recognition of how these children have overcome the many hardships that they encounter, on a daily basis.

Eight children this year received awards in three of our four categories. Claudia and Riley from St. Benedict's College in Mango Hill, Timothy and Sabrina from Griffin State Primary School, Molly, Millie and Mia from The Lakes College and Cameron from Mt. Maria College in Petrie.

Presenting the awards were Principal Simon Armstrong from The Lakes College, Luke Howarth, Federal Member for Petrie, Councilor Julie Greer, Div.4 Moreton Bay Regional Council and also Geradine Kearney from the Member for Murrumbidgee's office, Chris Whiting.

After the ceremony, our members served afternoon tea, which were baked by the members of the Pine Rivers Branch of the QCWA. The QCWA ladies cater for private events, do a wonderful job and the cost is reasonable.

This day is made possible, only by the continued support of our many sponsors. They include: Mayor Alan Sutherland, MP Luke Howarth, MP Chris Whiting, Councilor Julie Greer, QCWA Pine Rivers, SIMNI, Inspirational Connections, Kinique Natural Therapies, Frangipani on the Lake, Anna Cairo consulting (Melbourne) Barryan Accessory Fitting, Bayside Funeral Services and Zen-Chi Natural Therapies North Lakes. To all these wonderful people, please accept our sincere thanks.

Right now we are in serious countdown mode, with the commencement on Friday the 30th of September through to Sunday the 2nd of October, of our club, hosting the District Lions Convention. There will be some things that locals will find most educational and interesting, including our Youth Forum on the Sunday morning. This event will be held at the North Lakes State College Sports Stadium, in Innovation Place. Please feel free to join in the festivities and participate in the events that are open to the public.

Last weekend the club was involved in providing our members to support the Moreton Bay Regional Council at KITEFEST. Our involvement centered around us manning the gates and directing people. This was a really well organised event and was well supported by the public in their thousands. Well done Tasia Morrison and your team for staging such a seamless event. Also well done to our Secretary Lion Rolf Stade, for his mammoth efforts in arranging the LIONS roster for the entire two days.

On a personal note, of a morning, I'm usually walking past Lake Eden around school time and I've been taking notice of the parents and friends who hold the traffic signs up at the crossings. Not only do these wonderful people get the kids across busy Discovery Drive safely, but also talk to them, give them very direct and kind instructions and above all, tell them to have a great day and they'll see them later. WOW! How good is that? Congratulations, you are most appreciated, so please accept a well deserved North Lakes Lions Club "YAY FOR THE DAY" for doing such a great job with our school kids.

If you're new to North Lakes, joining our Lions Club is a terrific way of making new friends and integrating into the community. We try to make our meetings pro-active, interesting, including informative guest speakers, great food and above all, a happy and social atmosphere.

You can become a member of the North Lakes Lions Club by phoning our Membership Officer Lion Greg Milne directly, on 0449 294 734. He'll answer any initial questions you may have and invite you to our next Dinner meeting.

Till next time, Lion Chris.

North Lakes Community Women's Group Inc. News

Written by Sam Stevens Publicity Officer NLCWGI

Our bus trip to the Eumundi Markets on the Sunshine Coast was a great experience for 56 of our members. The weather was perfect with a bit of cloud and a spring breeze. Our combined purchases, very likely, would have generated a major boost to the market industry and surrounding eateries. We all travelled home on the bus with parcels of proudly acquired booty and lots to talk about. An adventure like this equates to a spending 'fix' that we all need from time to time to boost the inner 'me'. A fun day indeed enjoyed by all.

Tuesday 13th September 09:45 MADE BY TABS. Swiss bread making, mmm I can smell it already, if we bring along the butter, jam & honey we can have a Teddy Bear's Picnic. Tabs will also talk about Switzerland and bring her ukulele and sing some Swiss songs. You can find this talented lady on face book.

Tuesday 20th September 09:45 GUEST SPEAKER. A motivational speaker, a great person of interest that will keep us entertained and informed, always a winner.

Tuesday 27th September 11:30...LUNCH. Sea Salt & Vine, Reef Point Esplanade, Scarborough, located right on the waterfront at Scarborough, a few minutes from Redcliffe, opposite the Scarborough Holiday Caravan Park. The waterfront Café menu is focused on contemporary Australian cuisine with some café favourites combined with a selection of modern affordable dishes.

Our meetings are open to all women in North Lakes/Mango Hill – Moreton Bay district. Please refer to our listing under the Community Notice Board. For more information contact Julie, 3886 4552; Colleen, 0418 658 442; Carmen, 3491 9410.

Controversy over new public housing

$100M Government-led housing construction in pipeline, but policy tried, tested and failed says opposition

The Palaszczuk Government announced it's backing the state's building industry with $100 million worth of Government-led housing construction currently underway or set to commence.

Premier Anastacia Palaszczuk said this significant body of work would provide job support for approximately 2,000 tradespeople throughout the state.

"These are real jobs for local tradies working on building sites in regions all around the state.

"The projects will see more than 400 new homes built before the end of June next year.

"It means millions of dollars will be injected into local economies, including: almost $9.5 million into Ipswich; over $21.5 million into Townsville, and $19.4 million for the Gold Coast.

"Additionally there'll be boosts of: $2.7 million into Rockhampton; $6 million into Toowoomba; about $5.6 million into the Redlands; over $5 million for the Sunshine Coast and nearly $3.5 million into Pine Rivers," Premier Palaszczuk said.

Minister for Housing and Public Works Mick de Brenni said that importantly, the developments will provide homes for hundreds of vulnerable Queenslanders.

"Providing safe, secure affordable housing for people who need it, is the reason we're undertaking this investment," he said.

"These homes are built to high standards of accessibility, which is important when it comes to making sure that our seniors and Queenslanders with a disability have a secure place to live in communities across the state.

"Not only will these projects provide people with a safe, secure place to live, but they will also help supply an income for thousands of workers."

But Shadow Housing Minister Stephen Bennett said Labor had form for making public housing only about bricks and mortar, while ignoring the wrap-around services that helped those in need of it.

"Labor has completely missed the mark when it comes to delivering public housing that works," Mr Bennett said.

"They haven't outlined any plan to deliver the services that must go hand in hand with public housing – things like immigration support, disability services and training and development.

"Without these services, Queenslanders will be left with a $100 million bill for a failed scheme.

"Labor should be leveraging the private sector, including developers and not-for-profit organisations, so Queenslanders get public housing that works, but we're left with a project destined for failure.

"This is typical Palaszczuk Labor Government policy on the run, with no consultation and no thought for Queensland taxpayers who will foot the bill."

Mr Bennett said it was rich of Mick de Brenni to spruik the policy, just weeks after scrapping the Logan Renewal Initiative and leaving thousands of residents without roofs over their head.

"Mick de Brenni's announcement is a betrayal to those residents left high and dry without any kind of alternative plan for their future."

Minister de Brenni said the pipeline of Government-led housing construction builds on the projects already completed this financial year.

"We've already seen more than $7.7 million worth of new housing completed across Queensland," he said.

"Already 150 jobs have been supported across Aitkenvale, Southport and Stafford, with workers helping to build much needed shelter for 32 households in need of housing support.

"The Queensland Government is proud to be supporting housing projects that will provide housing for Queenslanders in most need but also employment for our tradies in every part of Queensland."

Open Data For Moreton Bay Region

Information about waste collection, public amenities, public buildings and infrastructure, maps, flood level records town Planning, flora and fauna now publicly available

Moreton Bay Regional Council has now adopted a new Open Data Policy, opening up new opportunities for the region's innovators and entrepreneurs.

The new policy will make non-sensitive data freely available and more easily accessible than ever before, with an Application Programming Interface (API) enabling computer programs to draw information directly out of the system. A Creative Commons license will govern how the data can be used and how it must be attributed. You can see our example on the image above.

The type of information that will initially become open under the new policy includes waste collection information, public amenity locations, information about public buildings and infrastructure, maps, flood level records, town planning data and flora and fauna information.

Moreton Bay Regional Council has joined 33 other local governments in Australia in adopting an Open Data Policy, with the Federal Government and all of the country's State and Territory governments also having Open Data arrangements in place.

Council's Corporate Services Spokesman, Councillor Adrian Raedel said the policy would make council even more open and accountable, but would not allow for the sharing of sensitive information.

"This policy applies to non-sensitive data only, and it will be made available through online infrastructure that is not housed on council's server to ensure there is no risk of users downloading more sensitive personal information, such as ratepayer's contact information, rate payment histories, commercial-in-confidence information or legal records," Councillor Raedel said.

"Opening up our non-sensitive data in this way will create a world of new opportunities for innovators and entrepreneurs who can use it in innovative ways that could greatly benefit our community."

"For example, a technically minded developer may want to create a new mobile app that shows us in real time when roads are closed during a flooding event. This type of data could be accessed by real-time GPS and mapping systems too."

"Another programmer might want to design a program that maps all of council's dog parks and the facilities around them, which will save dog owners from searching out the information themselves."

"Having just launched the 2017 Moreton Bay Innovation Awards, I can't think of a better time to launch our new Open Data Policy - because this new policy will certainly pave the way for new and exciting innovations."

View the Open Data system at <http://data.moretonbay.qld.gov.au>. New data will gradually be added.
